Since the last report Miss Jeanne Huson's school was visited at Mathews. The attendance was not so large as at some places, but every thing seemed to be in prosperous condition. Teacher and pupil doing well.

Hermas Rodgers was found in charge of the Pine Valley school with an interesting class of girls studying Agriculture. The boys were missing their opportunity as they often do.

Miss Sadie Barfield who is teaching in the Gum district, and Miss Emma Green teacher of the Powers district have light attendance at present on account of the fall work. Both are hopeful of better conditions and more regular attendance after while.

Frank Miller has charge of one of the best schools in the county and was found to be worthy of his good fortune. His board and patrons speak well for him. He is teaching the Burpham school near Fairdearling.

Miss Ernest Smith was found at Bennett's Point near Gatewood. She had a night meeting called for the benefit of the patrons, and the school visitor was treated royally among her people. The patrons all seemed to be pleased with the earnest efforts Miss Smith is making with their girls and boys.

W. A. Gallup is working hard with the girls and boys of the Dunn district. His patrons say good things for him. He is getting $60 per month.
